Principal's Message:

This new semester is getting busier as the term progresses and we are in full swing with important teaching, learning and assessing procedures. Our Year 12 students are sitting for their Trial HSC Exams over the next weeks and we wish them the very best with their efforts. All Year 12 students were interviewed by the Senior Executive in Term 2 and it was very reassuring to hear that the vast majority of students had implemented sound study habits during the first semester. I always remind our students that those who are the most organized and prepared will find that their future academic challenges are less stressful.

Our School Development Day, on Monday 26 July, provided our staff with additional opportunities for professional learning with a focus on technology. Our guest presenter, our School Police Liaison Officer, gave a presentation that reminded us of the serious nature of cybercrime and the consequences for students who participate in the activity. Staff also had faculty workshops that allowed them to further develop their skills in technology that would facilitate the learning process across all student groups.

Our staff who attended our recent Jindabyne excursion reported that our Year 11 students were mature and responsible whilst on the excursion. Congratulations to all participating students who were excellent ambassadors for our school and a very big thank you to all staff members who made the program run so successfully.

WHITLAM INSTITUTE
WHAT MATTERS? WRITING COMPETITION 2010

The What Matters? competition is run by the Whitlam Institute within the University of Western Sydney and is sponsored by Officeworks. The competition allows the institute the opportunity to hear directly from young people about what matters to them.

Participating students wrote on a diverse range of topics including obesity, animal cruelty, family relationships, bullying, world poverty, social responsibility, global warming, and the importance and power of the inquiring mind.

Four (4) students from Merewether High School were successful in being awarded prizes. They were:

CYBERSMART

The internet offers an exciting world of experiences for children and the whole family. It can be entertaining, educational and rewarding - and provides countless opportunities to create, connect and communicate. However, just as in the real world, these rapidly developing technologies also have risks and challenges and there is a growing awareness of the double edge sword that is digital technology. It appears that many of our young people are oblivious to the risks and often share private information online without regard for the potential consequences.

Merewether High School has been proactive in addressing the issues highlighted by recent media coverage of social networking security and safety concerns. Staff, have received additional training at staff meetings and at our recent school development day. Teachers now have a significantly enhanced understanding of the issues that may arise through unregulated computer use and are better able to advise our students.

As a parent, you can play an extremely important role in helping your children have safe and positive experiences online. By becoming aware of how children and young people use the internet, what they use it for, the risks in being online and some of the strategies to manage these risks, you can help guide them in the online world

SENIOR DEBATING

On the 21st July, the senior debating team – consisting of Year 12 students Alexander Winn, Ainsley Hughes and Monica Gendi and Year 11 student Elyse Hudson – travelled down to Sydney to compete against defending champions Smiths Hill High School in the State Semi Finals of the Premier's Debating Challenge.

The team had won the region with wins over Maitland-Grossman High in the Region Semi Final and Brisbane Waters Secondary College in the Region Final. The team then travelled to Sydney and defeated Chatswood in the State Semi Finals. Unfortunately, the team was defeated by Smiths Hill in the semi final. A huge congratulations goes to the team.

A big thank you also goes to Mrs Rae, who coached, organised debates and transported the team, Miss Corney, who transported the team to the State Semi Final, as well as Year 10 students Jessica Lighton and Kailan O'Connor, who debated for the team during zone rounds, Year 10 student Ryan Liddle, who debated for the team during zone rounds and the regional final and Bronwyn Burstal, who debated for the team during the zone rounds.

MODEL UNITED NATIONS

Year 11 student Elyse Hudson was in Perth from 4th July to 11th July, representing Australia at the United Nations Youth Association National Conference (UNYC). This conference is the largest residential youth conference held annually in Australia and is consistently recognised by government and the NGO community as Australia's premier conference for young people.

UNYC 2010's theme was Advocating for Change: Empowering Minorities, which focused on the empowerment of a range of disadvantaged social groups on both a local and international level. During the conference, delegates participated in a range of stimulating exercises, from model United Nations debate to interactive speakers' forums. Delegates also received hands-on experience during Change excursions and be part of the nation-wide campaign, YouthChange.

From this conference, Elyse was selected as one of 15 high school students to represent Australia at The Hague International Model United Nations in January next year. This trip consists of a 25 day educational tour of Europe, which includes a week in The Hague participating in an international Model United Nations.

YOGA INVITATION

A small group of Merewether High staff members enjoy an excellent yoga class every Wednesday afternoon from 3.30pm to 4.30pm in the school common room. We have a great stretching session which caters for all ages and sizes, followed by a wonderful relaxation session.

We would like to invite interested parents to join the class. The cost is $10 a week if paying 5 weeks or more or $12 a week if paying weekly.

If you would like to join us, please contact Mrs Mackenzie in the maths faculty or leave your name and number at reception if I am not available, and I will return your call.

DESIGNING HOUSES FOR THE FUTURE

James McMurray, Nina Long, Claire Burgess and Macfarlane Amey working as the Merewether TTTK group were today awarded first place in the Future Homes 2010 (FH10) competition. FH10 is a NSW Department of Education and Training (DET) Design Challenge for high school students to celebrate the Year of Learning for Sustainability.

Year 9 and 10 students from government schools in the Hunter Central region were eligible to participate in the competition.

During term two, students worked in small teams to develop a design for a 20 square metre home that harvested alternative forms of energy and water, had the ability to adapt to changing economic, social and environmental circumstances and which made the best use of sustainable materials.

DET developed the concept with industry partner Living Green Designer Homes (LGDH). Five highly commended designs were selected as finalists by a regional panel from the DET and LGDH.

Judges were particularly impressed with Merewether TTTK's solution that provided an interesting design solution through its orientation, performance and innovation, while also being sensitive to the environment. A variety of materials were chosen, which included hebel thermo block, Bondor, MetecsnoSpan, double-glazing and bamboo.

The winning design featured four key elements. These included an innovative system that used natural energy for both heating and cooling and a clever selection of materials that achieved high thermal performance while maintaining sustainability. An efficient floor plan complete with fixtures and furniture and a multi-purpose outdoor area completed the design elements.

Ms Christine Prietto from the NSW Department of Education and Training and co-ordinator of the design challenge said, "Future Homes 2010 is one of many sustainability initiatives that are being undertaken in DET schools this year to help make schools more sustainable places. The challenge set by the FH10 competition provided an authentic opportunity for students to apply their own ideas to the real world. It was also an opportunity to showcase the value of partnerships between schools and industry. This has been a valuable aspect of the program."

"Through their experiences in FH10 all students as the home owners of tomorrow have been made more aware of what is possible," she added.

The concept behind Future Homes 2010 is to give students the freedom to design a house with fresh ideas that have no boundaries and not worry about building codes or other normal restrictions. Designing a house that was responsive to its environment was a crucial part of the challenge.

The design program helped open students' eyes as to what a house can be, how it can be related to their lifestyle and how houses can respond to a constantly changing world.

"The students of today will be the consumers of the future who will drive the housing market. If students consider and embrace sustainability principles from an early age, then as consumers they will have the potential to influence houses of the future," concluded Craig Riddle, Managing Director of LGDH.

LGDH will also work with the winning team to bring their design to life and the completed house is expected to be delivered to Merewether High School in early October.

Congratulations to all students from MHS involved in this competition.

TODAY

Today I woke up and made mum a cup of tea,
I smiled at the shy girl at school and I thanked my friend for holding the door open.
I made the small things count.

Today I threw my hat over the wall, so I was committed to climbing over it,
Committed to my visions, my passions, my goals.
I made that commitment to motivate me to achieve.

Today I let my friend carry my bag,
Sometimes it's better to accept help than struggle by myself.
I shared the weight on my shoulders to keep me going.

Today I made a choice to be the best that I can be,
To serve others and make the most of this moment,

"The future started yesterday and we're already late" - John Legend

Rising Generations National Leadership Camp is a 4 day program run annually that hosts 200 students from across Australia. I attended the camp last year and it changed my life.

This year I was asked back by Rising Generations as a returning delegate with a group of 12 others. This opportunity gave us a chance to build on our leadership skills whilst also being a part of helping the other 188 young people at the camp change their lives.

The theme of this year's camp was The Service Revolution. It focused on the idea that every day we have many choices to make. We can choose how we influence, how aware we are of others and how it's often the little, beautiful moments of the day where you serve others that have the greatest impact.

We were fortunate enough to hear from amazing guest speakers such as Bec Heinrich, the founder of Rising Generations; Rob Stokes, MP for Pittwater, Sydney; Robyn Moore, who most of you would know as the voice of our beloved Blinky Bill; Nick Farr-Jones, ex-captain of the Australian rugby team, and Sam Cawthorn, Young Australian of the year 2009. All these motivational Australians shared with us their vision and their motivation in leadership, and to have them all together over a period of four days is a once in a lifetime opportunity.

Next year when the nominations open, go ahead and submit your name, you don't have to be the loudest, the fastest, the most popular or even need a title or a badge to be a leader; you just have to WANT it. For now I encourage you to make the small things count; you never know whose life you might change!

"We make a living by what we get, but we make a life by what we give" - Winston Churchill.

Recycling Mobile Phones - Support Unit Fundraiser

The easiest fundraiser ever....ever

The Support Unit will receive $1 for every old mobile phone it collects.

Simply bring in your unwanted mobile phone, no matter its age or condition and drop it off in the box in the support unit. NO CHARGERS.

This not only helps the support unit but the planet too. It is estimated that there are 16 million old mobile phones just lying around in office and home drawers in Australia alone.

These phones contain toxins that must not find their way into landfill sites. Envirofone recycle all phones to the highest standards in accordance with the International Standards Organisation, ISO 14001.

So dig out those old mobile phones and send them to school. Parents can also arrange a collection at work.

Denise Hughes
Support Unit

Phone Facts

Did you know that:

There are an estimated 24 million unused mobile phones in Australia today..

On average, people in Australia upgrade their mobile phone every 16 months, but less than 6% of mobile phones are recycled.

There's enough gold in 50 mobile to make one gold wedding ring

Percent of the phones that are sent to Envirofone, about 75% are repaired and resold. The other 25% are very old or very poorly designed phones, and these are recycled and their metals that gold are reused.

One misplaced mobile phone battery could potentially pollute 600,000 litres of water

There's not much gold in Africa, but it is rich in mobile phone waste. In fact, it's estimated that 100 million mobile phones are discarded every year. Most of these end up in landfills, where they can leach toxic chemicals into the soil and water. This is a major environmental problem, especially in Africa, where many people rely on mobile phones for communication and business. Recycling mobile phones can help reduce this waste and protect the environment.
