Principal's Report

Year 12

Congratulations to Year 12 who ended their thirteen years of schooling in a positive manner which was respectful to themselves and the school and demonstrated their maturity and understanding of responsibility. Year 12 celebrated their last week of school with a number of activities throughout the week, a pyjama day, wear another school's school uniform, service to school day, where a significant amount of money was raised for the year's gift to the school, their formal held at Newcastle Town Hall and the Year 12 Presentation Assembly held on the last day of term. I would like to thank Year 12 for the way they conducted themselves throughout the last week and for their understanding of the last week being one of a positive celebration of schooling. I would also like to wish all of Year 12 the best of luck in their upcoming HSC exams; we know they will make themselves and all of us very proud when we share in their results in December.

Year 11 (Year 12 2014)

As one year group finishes another group commences their HSC studies. We began the year with a Year 12 Learning Conference held on the first day of Term 4. Students participated in sessions on Board of Studies requirements, moderation processes, time management skills, motivation skills and goal setting. The day has been put in place to support students as they start their HSC studies and to make sure they have all the information they need to set them up for success.

Challenge Day

Year 7 2014 participated in a Gifted and Talented Challenge Day as part of their transition to high school. Students worked in groups, getting to meet people from schools other than their own, completing a number of challenges.

Year 11 Assembly

As Year 11 have now completed their Preliminary course, an end of year assembly will be held on Monday 21st October commencing at 11:00am. All students will be recognised for their achievements throughout the year and they will receive their final Preliminary reports. All parents are welcome to attend.

This term is shaping up to be a very busy one with end of year exams, completion of reports, Year Assemblies, our Annual Presentation Assembly, the Prefect Investiture Assembly, our Sports Presentation Assembly and Year 7 2014 Orientation Day and Challenge Day. All students should be working towards their final exams as these occur in Week 5 for Year 10 and Week 6 for Years 7, 8 and 9.

From the DP

Welcome back to what is going to be another jam packed term at Merewether. This week will see the junior assessment calendars uploaded to the school website under the respective year group tabs. Students should access these to help them stay well prepared for all assessments.

Our Year 12 students for 2014 had their Learning Conference on Tuesday 8th October; this was a fantastic day which kick started their journey towards the HSC. All the resources for the day have now been uploaded to a new section of the MHS student Moodle site. The new student toolbox will be accessible to all students and will contain resources and information that is pertinent to their success and preparation across the school curriculum. All materials from presentations such as those presented on the subject selection evenings, study skills workshops and the learning conference will be available to students via this new toolbox.

I look forward to visiting Year 7 and 8 classes across the next 2 weeks to discuss with them the processes for their Board meetings as part of our school academic and learning support for all students. The board meetings will take place in Week 5 this Term and will be a great opportunity for students to reflect on their learning and discuss their progress across the year in the lead up to their final exams for 2013.

This week I have chosen to highlight a couple of ideas to support the ongoing health and wellbeing of our fantastic teenagers. At a time when social media is very significant to them in maintaining connections, there are many other important facets to building positive relationships and supporting healthy young people to thrive. The following Tips are a collaboration of ideas from across a range of resources to support families raising Teens.

- As we move into the warmer months it is a fantastic time to get out and get moving, the bonus is that students with good fitness are usually more alert, have greater focus and concentration and hence learn better.
- Breakfast is the brain food for teens. With many early buses and trains to catch and in particular the challenge of returning to the regular routine after the holiday sleep ins, be mindful that teens on the run often skip breakfast. It is really important that we make the time to fit breakfast in and ensure a wellfuelled brain for learning.
- Breakfast can also be a great time to have a chat and set the tone for a great day. Research suggests that most teenagers spend only 6-10 minutes of quality conversation a day with their parents. So making time to "really chat" via a 2 way conversation not just the quick one line sentences or statements is an important part of maintaining quality connections with our Teens.
- Continue to build conversation, skills and relationships by encouraging your teen to cook with you, you can choose themed meals to suit their interests and despite an initial protest, they usually find that they actually love it and it has an extra bonus of providing some quality time to build the relationship between you and your teen.
- Find, as many ways as possible to reflect a positive attitude and to tell your teen you are proud of them. Talking the language of PROUD is a really powerful expression. Aim to tell them at least once a day and be specific about their actions ... I was proud of the way you ...I was so proud when you

Knowing that things often don't come easy, it is important that we as parents and careers model some of the finer characteristics for our Teens so they realise that resilience, responsibility, patience and hard work are key components of healthy development.

Make sure your children know you struggle, fail and "goof up" just like them.

Voice your struggle, your mistakes and your problems

Model struggle and determination – voice it out loud and often. "That was so hard. I had to try lots of times..."

Talk persistence – "I found that really hard, but I was determined to finish it......", "That was a real effort....."

Model apology too. "That was wrong. I'm so sorry for...", "I made a big mistake. I need to apologise now for...."

So with spring in the air, now is the time to get excited about the Term ahead and enjoy the many activities and challenges that will no doubt arise over the next 10 weeks with your Teen. I look forward to sharing this learning partnership with you. Happy Term 4.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Business Spectator

Preliminary HSC students in Business Studies have recently completed the final topic on Business Planning. Students studied hypothetical business plans to gain an appreciation of the process required to implement a new business or product idea. The focus was on reasons for success or failure of businesses.

Students enjoyed a presentation from Business Consultant Paulina Manganaro from the Hunter Business Centre. Paulina has started and operated a café venture of her own as well as having vast experience in advising local Hunter Businesses on planning and implementing successful business strategies. Students heard authentic stories of small business success and also reasons for failure in the Newcastle region. The message that students took away from the talk was that intrinsic values such as a business owner's passion for their product and drive to succeed are often the underpinning factors in business success.

In Term 4, students will begin the HSC course studying the operations of large Australian and global businesses. As an introduction to an operations system, students visited the production facility of Cupcake Espresso at Adamstown. Cheree Jackson, Operations Manager gave the students a talk about the production process of cupcakes and the relationship between other business functions such as marketing in influencing the operations function.

In an effort to experience the day to day role of an operations manager, Mr Gill's accelerated Business Studies class were assigned the task of planning a pancake production facility in AC3. Students were tasked with making pancakes from scratch and producing a high quality product fit for human consumption! The exercise left students with a greater appreciation of the importance of quality control in operations as well as its relationship with financial and human resource management.

In addition, an excursion to NBN television headquarters in Cooks Hill is planned for Term 4 to investigate the operations of a service based business as well as our annual trip to the Hunter Valley to visit Pukara Estate Olive Oil and Hunter Belle Cheese.

Guest Speaker – Business Studies

Gareth West a Senior Accountant from PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC) came to Merewether High School to speak to Year 12 Business Studies students on the HSC topic of Finance. Gareth covered the processes of financial management, including financial ratios and the limitations of financial reports. Students were also given a range of short answer financial questions so that they could apply the information which was covered during the talk. Students were able to broaden their knowledge of the topic in preparation for the upcoming HSC Business Studies examination on 28 October.

I would like to thank Gareth for sharing his expertise with the students as well as PwC for allowing him the time to come to Merewether High School.

Kerry West Head Teacher Social Science

Guest Speaker—Business Studies

On 18 September, 2013 I invited Greg Sellers to the school to join our Business Studies classes to talk about marketing. Greg is the Head of Digital Sales at NBN Television.

Greg spoke to us about the importance of marketing at NBN. This was very informative as marketing is the final topic that students have studied in preparation for the HSC. Greg discussed Television; NBN's viewing coverage areas, total potential viewers and marketing at NBN.

We were all interested to learn about the cost of advertising, people meters, target markets and successful advertising campaigns. Students enjoyed discussing recent advertisements and government regulations that restrict advertising in certain time slots.

I would like to thank Greg for the generosity he has shown our students in delivering his presentation.

Throughout Term 3 Ms Donnelly's Year 9 Elective Geography worked on the Climate Clever Energy Savers Project (CCES). All students worked hard in their groups over the term to devise plans to help Merewether High become more environmentally sustainable. Everyone's projects were fantastic, but in the end ours was chosen to gain the $1000 grant from the Department of Education. Lighting at Merewether High consumes 35% of the school's energy bill. We thought that this was an unreasonable amount but there are other options. Our project plans to replace the 124 energy consuming single T8 light bulbs with T5 energy efficient florescent bulbs. This swap would save the school 2,130kW of energy and $450 annually. This money could go back to replace the other 768 double fluorescent bulbs, ultimately saving the school 28550kW of energy and $6030 per

We hope to implement this plan by the end of the year and look forward to seeing Merewether High School becoming greener.

SUPPORT UNIT

Year 12

Year 12 students in the support unit continue at school and TAFE until the end of Term 4. To ensure the move from school into the adult world is smooth the Year 12 students are attending sessions with some of the post school providers. House With No Steps (HWNS) has offered sessions at their Charlestown office and students have been attending on a number of days visiting Charlestown Square, completing craft activities and educational booklets on job training, travelling on public transport and outings. Response at Broadmeadow has a Friday program with the first day Amazing Race around Newcastle, cleaning a house and laser tag.

Work experience is continuing with students at Vinnies

Edgeworth, garden crew at Newcastle University, HWNS garden crew and kitchen hand at the Newcastle Elderly Citizens. Work experience opportunities allow the students a taste of different types of work before making the hard decisions for 2014.

Denise Hughes Support Unit Teacher

Donormobile

The Australian Red Cross Blood Service needs to collect 27,000 blood donations every week. Merewether High School supported this life-saving service with the last visit of the Red Cross Donormobile for 2013 on Thursday 12th September. There was a positive response from students with the booking sheet full well in advance of the day. There were many new donors.

The total blood donations on the day were 43 which would help save 129 lives. An excellent effort in supporting the community!

In 2014 young blood donors, under 18 years, will be able to donate only once in 12 months. Merewether High School is fortunate to have 2 dates – February 20th and October – so younger students as they turn 16 will be able to donate on the later date.

Principal's Recommendation Scheme

UTS recognises that in some circumstances a student's performance in their Year 12 studies may not be a true indicator of their ability to succeed at university. The UTS Principals' Recommendation Scheme (PRS) allows Principals within NSW to nominate financially disadvantaged students whose capability and personal attributes will see them succeed within UTS, but whose ATAR presents a barrier for entry.

Key dates

- Principal submits nominations by Friday 15 November 2013
- Offers made to successful applicants from 16 January 2014 Application Form

For more info, visit the UTS website or call the Equity and Diversity Unit on 9514 1084. Get more information about the UAC Educational Access Scheme.

Politics

INTRODUCING WORLD POLITICS, A BOARD OF STUDIES ENDORSED HSC COURSE

From terrorism to trade and from climate change to war, world politics affects us all. The HSC World Politics course taught by the University of Sydney aims to give students a deep understanding of global events by exploring the major political forces at work in the world and how they shape the decisions of governments and their leaders. We examine the classic and contemporary debates about how the world works, including questions about whether war is natural and inevitable, whether there is any more to international politics than just power, and whether governments and citizens can hope to rectify long-standing problems of injustice and deprivation. This course will teach students how to think critically about the actions of governments and other powerful decision-makers, and how to absorb current events into a broader understanding of the workings of world politics.

Who can apply: Students who have finished Year 10 or Year 11 in 2013

When the course runs: 6th - 17th January 2014

How to apply: interested students should see Mrs Abbo for an application form. Note this needs to be approved by the principal

Applications for the 2014 summer school close Friday 22 November 2013. Late applications will be considered, subject to the availability of places.

Year 11

Year 11 Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry and Engineering Studies Students:

Two of the most commonly asked questions we as teachers get asked are "why am I learning this?" or "where can I use this in my life?". The Engineering Link Project has been providing answers to those and many other questions for nearly 20 years.

Thanks to Lloyd's Register Foundation, Thiess, the University of Technology Sydney and Transgrid, we are very pleased to offer the students of New South Wales the second Sydney Engineering Link Project. A brochure explaining the event can be found attached to this email, along with an A4 poster you can print and put up around the school. You can also download all of these documents, along with a brief PowerPoint presentation you can show your students (if you wish) at our website: http://www.telg.com.au/Events.html

The Project will be held in the school holidays, to minimise the disruption to class time. It will be September 24 and 25, 2013 at UTS in Sydney. For those students who have to travel, we will have supervised accommodation available for the Tuesday night at a small additional cost. Full details are on the registration website: http://sydelp2013.eventzilla.net.

This course is designed to give students who are very interested in Maths, Physics and/or Chemistry an insight into engineering as a possible career.

Please note: Year 12 students are welcome to attend, but we realise that this is very close to their HSC and thus may not be able to.
